WASHINGTON

Something has come over Madison this year. It is an awakening which has affected the minds of everyone in the school, encouraging them to participate, arousing their spirit and pride, and stimulating their desire to learn. The students at Madison feel a new responsibility for their school, inspiring each individual to do his best to improve the school. This vitality is everywhere; it radiates from the new wings of the school, from the successful athletic teams, and from the enthusiasm of the faculty. Madison has become a bustling, buzzing, moving school where an overdue awakening has arrived.

The 1967 Montpelier staff has attempted to capture this awakening of interest and awareness of character that represents a year full of vigor and zeal. We hope it signifies to you a year more meaningful than ever before.

Principal Elton A. Bonner

Madison's Principal eptiomized the feelings of all the Faculty and Administration for the school year by saying that he hoped this year would see those at Madison grow closer together with an increased feeling of friendship and unity; that all would be urged to contribute and that everyone would assume his rightful responsibility. "We must be proud of our school and proud of ourselves," he concuded.

Unity and Increased Student Participation

Madison's Administration was faced with a momentous task as school opened in September. A larger student body entered a much larger school. The Administration hoped that with an awareness of new physical surroundings would come an increased awareness of responsibilities; that expansion would promote a sense of pride in the school and a student body united in aim and purpose.

New goals were set for the school year of 1966-1967: to increase school spirit; and to strive to include more of Madison's students, especially the underclassmen, in its many extra-curricular activities. January saw the formation of several new clubs to afford the chance for more participation.

The Administration helped in the great readjustment that took place during the year and kept the gears of the school running smoothly.

Administrative Assistant Lois A. Tichenor

The Guidance Department increased its extensive selection of information concerning all types of colleges and careers. The student was able to plan early and well for his future. He had access and was able to take good advantage of the various pamphlets, catalogues, tapes and other aids for planning his or her future.

One very useful device, incorporated into Fairfax County schools just this year, was a machine that will pinpoint one's ideal college according to its location, curriculum, social life, and expenses.

Madison's Guidance Department has faithfully fulfilled its vocation by aiding students both individually and as a group. It helped the student choose his or her college or institute of advanced learning with confidence and assurance, placing Madison's seniors in colleges throughout the country.

English classes seemed different in many ways this session. An enlarged number of faculty and new rooms were responsible for much of the feeling of change.

A new plan for Junior English classes was inaugurated this year. Correlated classes of English III and U. S. history were taught on all levels of instruction for the first time. This plan was employed instead of the American Civilization offered last year. The idea behind the change was expressed by the administration by saying that its goal was to afford the opportunity of enjoying the advantages of "AC" to all 11th graders.

Advanced Placement English was offered to Seniors and taught by Mr. Bennett. Freshmen and Sophomores studied English I and II respectively with the emphasis placed on both grammar and literature.

In this rapidly moving, contemporary world it is necessary to be acquainted with the diversified thoughts, cultures and ideals of the many countries and civilizations throughout the world. In an attempt to meet the demanding challenge of familiarizing students with basic principles of human behavior and thought, Social Studies teachers have emphasized the "whys" and "hows" rather than mere facts. A greater stress was placed upon understanding and less upon memorization.

Freshmen learned the basic principles of World Geography; Sophomores concentrated upon the development of civilizations in World History; Juniors studied American History; and Seniors learned of the growth of Republican government.

For the first time, Juniors participated in a Junior Class Council modeled after the Senior Council. Once a month classes were used to discuss the important issues and events concerning the class and the school.

The goal of the Science Department was one that involved the student with other fields of interest as well as the education and training of the potential scientist. It was to make the non-scientific minded student aware of what is taking place in the complicated fields of science and technology and to help him in obtaining a better understanding of the composition and physical laws of the world that surrounds him.

Science courses ranged from the Freshman Earth Science to Advanced Placement Chemistry, a college course. Biology, Chemistry, and Physics were offered on the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior levels respectively.

As a great many of every Freshman Class entering Madison will become interested in Science, a well-organized and progressive Department is a necessity and with the addition of new laboratories and programs, Madison's Science Department increased its capabilities greatly.

As the subject of Mathematics is continually changing, the ways, concepts and methods of teaching must also change. New equipment and tools are needed to teach what is labeled "New Math". This year, Madison, for the first time, had a Mathematics laboratory. It contained many mechanical aids for the teaching of geometric concepts.

New courses must also be offered as the need for them arises. As new additions to the Math curriculum was Probabiiity and Statistics. The teacher of the course was Mr. Holsinger, the Math Department Chairman.

Other subjects taught were: Math 9 and 10; Algebra I and II; Geometry; Algebra II and Trigonometry; Trigonometric Functions; Analysis and Calculus.

For the first time in Madison's history, fifth year language courses were offered in all three major foreign languages: French, German, and Spanish. Dr. Cook, the head of the department, expresses the hope that next year would see the beginning of Russian I and II. There is also a great possibility of foreign civilization courses being taught in languages other than English.

New equipment played an important role in this department as it did in many others. In French a new rapid drill for pronunciation and the teachings of phonetics was used.

Mr. Edmondson and many of his Spanish students sojourned to Puerto Rico during the Easter Vacation. He felt that the trip would motivate the study of Spanish during the year and raise interest in it.

The Business Department carried on its very important task of preparing students for careers in the business professions this year.

With the addition of a room of electric typewriters, the department was able to offer even more students the chance to develop skills that will be useful in later life.

Many courses in Personal Typing and Notehand were offered for the student who expects to use his typing skills for his own benefit.

Shorthand, Typing I and II, General Business, Bookkeeping, and Recordkeeping were among the other subjects taught.

Classes Trained in Useful Trades

The Home Economics Department afforded the girls at Madison the chance to improve homemaking skill and, for the first time, placed a vocational emphasis on sewing in a new course entitled Vocational Sewing.

This new course, a two-hour, two-credit, course offered twelve students the training necessary for employment in the professional sewing fields.

The Industrial Arts Department, aided by many newly installed mechanical tools and devices, introduced many students to the technical fields of Electronics and Mechanical Drawing. New rooms, new shops, and a new Electronics lab have greatly increased its capabilities.

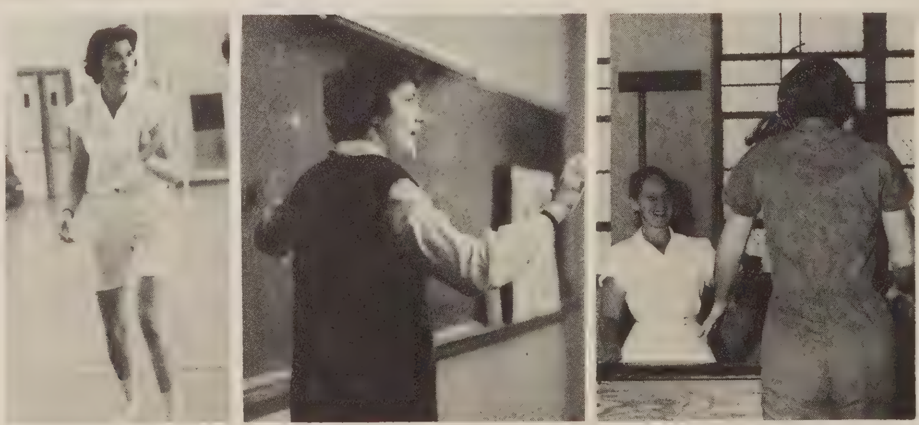
Gym Classes Stress Physical Fitness

Assistant Department Head: Gloria Milbourn

One of the most exciting events of the 1966-1967 school year was the completion of the new gymnasium large enough to accommodate the entire Madison student body. The gym opened in January. It was the culmination of a tremendous planning and construction effort.

The new gym symbolized the new spirit of the Physical Education Department as innovations and additions brought a new vigor and life to the athletic program. Madison's teams responded to this new feeling by having exceptional seasons: the Warhawk football team ending its season with a won and loss record of seven and three.



Girls' Physical Education: Pat Dean, Merle Anne Kemp, Margaret Birch.

Since the beginning of Madison High School, the Music Department has contributed significantly to the school. The many bands, under the capable direction of Mr. Yohe, repeatedly gave fine performances and placed well in All-State competition.

The Madrigals again focused attention on the Choral Department. A completely new group this year, they exemplified the continuing excellence of Madison's Music Department. Under the direction of their conductor, Mr. Guidotti, they and the other Choir members performed throughout the Washington Metropolitan area.

Senior Art was offered to academically capable students for the first time this year. Many field trips to various museums also enhanced the ever-expanding Art Department. Working hard throughout the year, the Art Department contributed in hundreds of ways to improve the appearance of the school and to decorate the many Madison festivities.

At Madison

The Special Forces which include the reading teacher, the visiting teacher, the nurse, the librarians and the secretaries make the every day business of school life run smoothly. Their invaluable help is seen in almost every phase of school life.

The secretaries handle all of the paperwork and mail that is necessary to the administering of a school.

The reading and visiting teachers are responsible for the education of students requiring special aid.

The nurse, responsible for the health of all students, conducted eye and ear tests and supervised the collection of health forms.

Madison's librarians were faced with the large task of moving the hundreds of volumes from the old library to the newer and much larger one.

Classes

Hard work, fun, and frolic of Senior Class is led by (right to left) Susie Reid, President; Don Drayer, Vice President; Nancy Bolish, Secretary; and Charles Bowers, Treasurer.

Under the leadership of Susie Reid, the first girl to be president of the Senior Class in Madison's history, the Class of '67 worked hard to come out of the state of poverty and earn enough money for a first-class graduation. The unprecedented outside-of-school summer dances, the crowded after-the-game soc hops, the occasional bakesales, and the revival of the Senior Class Play were among the money-making ventures.

The Senior Class mobbed together with great spirit to cheer the football team on to a fantastically successful season, applauded senior star-studded basketball and wrestling teams, again heard the baleful tune of the "fuzzy mountain boys," and made an enthusiastic showing in the SENIOR-Junior basketball game.

With the help of dedicated sponsors, Mrs. Donohoe and Mr. Strohm, the Class of '67 has, indeed, gained distinction.

To start the year off, the Class of '68 established a Junior Class Council, which was patterned after the Senior Council and provided all Juniors with greater opportunity for individual participation in class events.

Greater variety in the Breakfast Club menu was a much appreciated innovation. Along with this, the traditional sock hops, magazine drives, and bake sales proved the Junior Class to be unified and enthusiastic.

With the arrival of Class Rings and the final preparations for the Prom, the Junior year for the Class of '68 came to a memorable close.

The Class of '69 distinguished itself during its sophomore year as being spirited and well unified. The Sophomores displayed their class pride by decisively winning the Magazine Drive prize and by proclaiming their own "Sophomore Spirit Day." Working together, the Class succeeded with the first profitable "Pizza Panic." Even through freezing weather, Luigi's pizzas stayed warm and tasty.

Contributing initiative and energy, the Class of '69 had a successful and rewarding year.

Filled with anxiety J.V. cheerleaders hope for a win.

Craig Chamberlain, President; Janet Berta, Secretary; Diane Smith, Treasurer; Carrie Briggs, Vice-President.

Coming in strong to win the SPTA Drive, and creating a winning Homecoming float the big class of '70 got off to a good start. The freshmen went on to a decisive victory over all in the Cans for Christmas and the Magazine Drives. Throughout all class and school activities this year, the Madison frosh maintained a high level of class communication and unity. All of these accomplishments show the fiery potential of a hard-working class that may look back on a rewarding year, and forward to many more exciting ones.

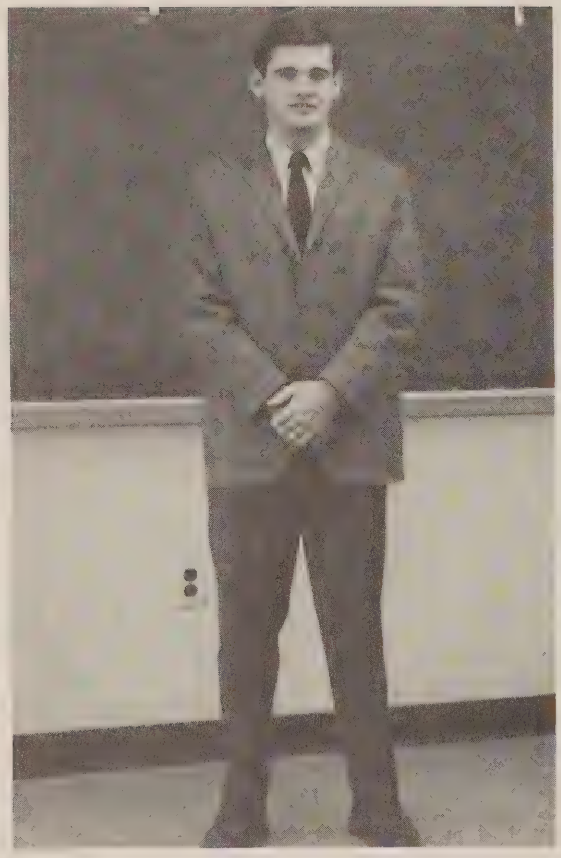
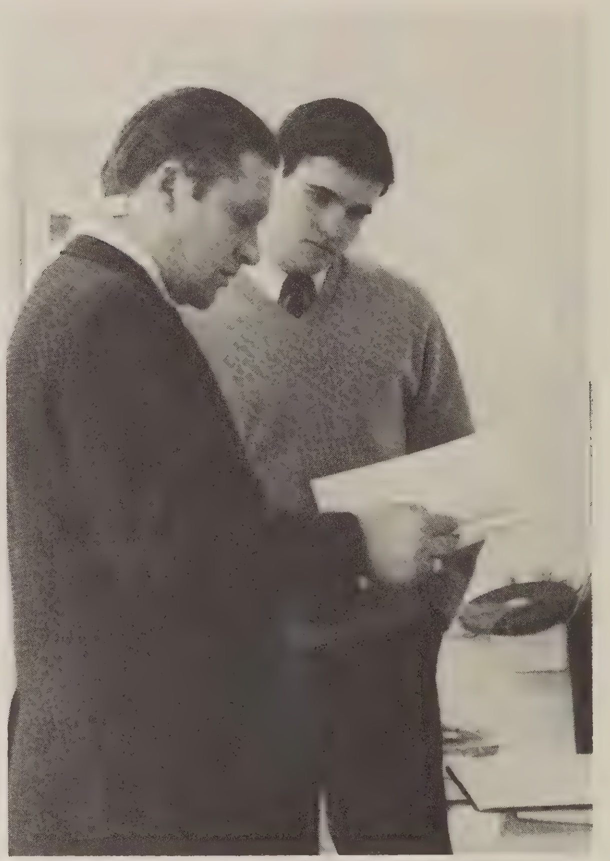
Organizations

An Improved, Active SCA And



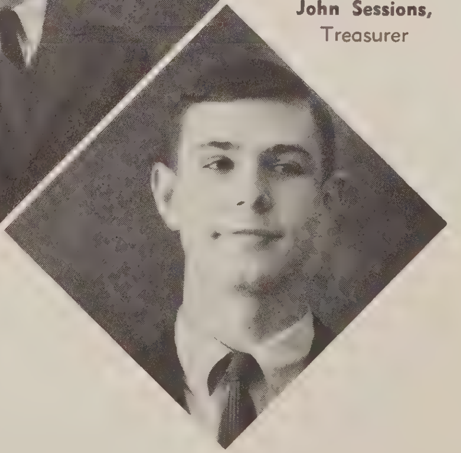
Ed Kitchen, Student Council President



Mr. Carl Davis, Sponsor, talks with President Ed Kitchen

Rick Kattenburg, Vice President

Pat Michaelson, Secretary



John Sessions, Treasurer

Madison's S.C.A. was composed of four officers, several cabinet members, club presidents, homeroom representatives, and the entire student body. To improve communications between the student council and the student body, the SCA sent newsletters to all the students each month. The Inter-Club Council, formed this year, was designed to co-ordinate the numerous club activities at Madison.

This year's SCA worked to increase student spirit and participation by using new approaches to the many projects it sponsored.

Cabinet Govern The Student Body

Donna Shanton, Suzanne Sheats, and Mark Youngblood discuss the latest project in the new S.C.A. room.

The S.C.A. Cabinet worked closely with the officers and representatives to create a more successful and smoother functioning student government. Changes in the traditional positions and projects improved spirit and increased enthusiasm among the students.

Community Projects, a new Cabinet position, formed an important bridge between the school and the community. By attending Freshman Orientation, ninth graders were given the opportunity to attend their classes, meet their teachers, and familiarize themselves with their school. Leadership Training utilized the seminar approach and International Week included provocative speakers. Special Projects and Spirit were more successful than ever before in stimulating student participation.

The S.C.A. Cabinet helped to enrich the school year for JMHS students.

Special SCA Posts And

In an effort to make students gain a greater awareness of SCA activities, the Student Council formed a Speakers' Bureau. This group spoke in homerooms and English classes about elections, honor, and the overall attitude of the student body.

In an attempt to succeed with the new Honor System, an Honor Commission was formed to promote the atmosphere of honor and pride at Madison. During Honor Week intensive publicity encouraged students to reflect on the meaning of Honor.

The Senior Council is the the governing body of Madison's graduating class. Consisting of elected representatives from American Government classes and class officers, the council planned for graduation and organized and sponsored many fund-raising projects.

Madison's Junior Class inaugurated a Junior Council to help plan and carry out its many activities. Modeled after the Senior Council it helped to co-ordinate events such as a Junior-Senior basketball game, sock hops, bakesales and the Breakfast Club. It was responsible for all major decisions on Madison's Junior-Senior Prom which was held in June.

Sitting: Sharon Carroll, Donna Strickland, Penny Szten, Vicki Cummings, Kathy Thompson. Standing: Dave Nahmias, Bill Benson, Ed Herbert, Pam Buckles, Mark Kennedy, Karen Schiavetti, Holger Dietz, Peggy Poole, Mark Youngblood, Rick Curl, Nancy Donnelly.

Honor Society Recognizes Achievement

February saw the admittance of nearly thirty Juniors and Seniors that had met the National Honor Society's qualifications of Character, Scholarship, Leadership and Service. For the first time, Sophomores who had earned a 3.2 grade average were accepted into the Society.

Under the leadership of Capt. Hoffman, the faculty sponsor, the Honor Society participated in the Academic Awards banquet and sent representatives to the district conference.

Madison Club Devotes Time and Energy

The loudly applauded Madison Club float was the "high" point in Homecoming festivities.

"Do you have any cans that you can donate to Madison's Cans for Christmas Drive?" This was the question asked by members of the Madison Club as they led in the amount of cans collected for the annual drive.

Other service activities included parking cars at basketball and football games and for plays. The club members served at all of Madison's banquets including the Sports and Academic Awards banquets. They also helped at the district wrestling match and at "Back-to-School" night.

The club sponsored Madison's first Adult Dance in the spring for the parents of Madison's students. In these and many countless other ways, the Madison Club achieved its goal of service to both school and community.

To Improve School and Town

Madisonettes Serve School and Community

"Meet your match—tickets on sale for the first Computer Dance ever to be given at Madison!" This was one of the most profitable and successful projects the Madisonettes sponsored this year. The proceeds from this and other money making projects enabled the club to serve Madison more effectively.

Cooperation and dependability, which are specific character traits for potential members, were in evidence as the members collected over $100 for the March of Dimes Community Project. Among other time-giving projects were aiding in SPTA functions, selling ads and ushering for the Music and Drama departments, participation in the Cans for Christmas Drive, and serving and supplying food for the International Smorgasbord Dinner.

New Clubs Honor Students and Serve School

INTERACT CLUB: Newly inaugurated, the Interact Club under sponsorship of the Vienna Rotary Club proved to be a most promising and integral part of Madison. As a service organization, Interact's goals are designed to be more extensive and farther reaching. It was actively engaged in the March of Dimes campaign and took part in Vienna's beautification project. In addition to those notable contributions, the International goal this year was to sponsor a Korean orphan.

VARSITY CLUB: The purpose of the formation of the Varsity Club was two-fold in that it gives recognition to athletic achievement and also serves the school in various ways. Our school was improved by the Varsity Club's cleaning the area around James Madison Drive. They officated at athletic events, and they set up tables in the cafeteria for many James Madison activities. In its first year, the Varsity Club's contributions have been indeed noteworthy.

GAA Encourages Sportsmanship and Skill

The Girls' Athletic Association is an organization which attempts to promote and encourage participation in athletic events at Madison. The association also helped to unify the many girls who were interested in, and enjoy playing sports.

The qualifications for membership are: receiving a letter from the athletic department for participating in a sport, completing one hundred hours as a gym assistant, or participating in two extra-curricular sports.

GAA activities ranged from lively initiations to secret pals. They also served their school by working at the concession stand at varsity football games.

"Were you addressing me."

The Concert Choir gave fine performances throughout the year. Its season was highlighted by concerts at Woodson High School and Marymount College. In spite of a heavy blizzard, Madison's auditorium was packed for the Annual Christmas Concert. Members of this choir contributed greatly to this year's very successful production of The Sound of Music.

Having brought international fame to Madison's Choral Department, the Madrigals sang at numerous concerts throughout the year. Two concerts were given in Richmond and one was given at the Phillips Art Gallery in Washington, D. C. They also sang at the Marymount College.

Among the notable Madrigal performances was the program presented at the White House in the Spring of the year. Songs they sang for the Ambassador of Korea and President Johnson included "The Yellow Rose of Texas."

The Madrigals sold candy to raise funds for a school pipe organ, which has become one of the department's goals.

Madison's Symphonic Band had a busy year, playing at D. C. Stadium for the George Washington University Homecoming football game, performing as Madison's Marching Band at home games during half time and receiving an excellent rating at the annual Band Festival.

In addition, the Symphonic Band participated in an exchange concert with the Hanover Park Band from New Jersey. The Spring Concert was truly a well-coordinated display of the Symphonic Band's excellence. Outstanding performers at this, the last concert of the year, were Jim Robertson with a piano solo, "Warsaw Concerto", Dick Freuhwald with a trumpet solo, and Pat Botticelli performing a flute solo.

String and Wind Ensembles Specialize

This year two of the unique aspects of Madison's instrumental department were the String and Wind Ensembles. The String Ensemble has progressed to the point that they are able to perform music of the master composers, Mozart, Rameau, Couperin, and Haydn. Representing the musical elite of the instrumental department is the Wind Ensemble. This group performs music of a more serious nature than the other bands in the department.

Majorettes and Drill Team Lead Marching Band

In its third year the girls' drill team continued to decorate Madison games and assemblies. The color guard, which exhibited the flags, led the drill team and added greatly to events in which it participated.

Madison's attractive majorettes were also present at football games and accompanied the band in several parades.

The AFS Club worked this year to publicize and support the international exchange program at Madison. With the help of this year's exchange students, Juan Borkosky and GiGi Hamza, the club conducted two assemblies. The first, in the fall of the year, introduced the Americans Abroad program to the students. Later in the year, AFS presented a panel discussion of foreign life and culture, with several area AFSers as guest speakers.

Fund raising activities included Christmas card sales, Discount card sales, and the annual AFS Horse Show.

Foreign Exchange Students Enrich Madison

Foreign Exchange Students Gigi Hamza and Juan Borkosky are shown in the Foreign Exchange Corner of the library. Former AFS'ers are shown in the pictures on the bookshelf.

Gigi Hamza, our foreign exchange student from Egypt, was born on September 30, 1948. Her Egyptian home is in Cairo. While here in Vienna, she lived with Madonna Young's family. Once back in Egypt, Gigi plans to continue her education at the University of Cairo. Her major field of study will be in Political Science. After a tour of our country in June, Gigi returned to Egypt.

Juan Borkosky was born on April 6, 1948 in San Miguel de Tucuman, Argentina. This year as one of Madison's foreign exchange students, Juan lived with Doug Chamberlain and his family. After touring the United States in June, Juan returned to Argentina to complete his final four and a half months of high school. After graduation, he hopes to attend the University of Tucuman and study mechanical engineering.

Besides taking a large part in the three school dramatic productions, Thespian Troupe #2541 found time to hold two initiations and to win a superior rating for their presentation of Kent Johnson's "Unto Us a Child is Born" at the Northern Virginia One-Act Play Festival in Annandale in February. This honor made them eligible to take the play to the State Festival in Charlottesville.

A Thespian float was placed in the Homecoming Parade, giving rise to other projects such as cleaning up the backstage area, putting numbers on auditorium seats, and supporting other school events.

In order to discover the activities of other Thespian Troupes throughout the state, some members attended the Dramatic Workshop in Arlington, and the State Dramatic Conference in Roanoke.

Heritage Reflects Cultural Interests of Students

The Heritage Staff, succeeded in producing the finest creative writings from Madison's student body. Both issues of Heritage were filled with original and inspiring poetry, prose, and art work. Previous to the distribution of each issue, a literary tea was held where contributors were privileged to view the magazine before it was given to the student body.

The 1967 Montpelier Staff had an extremely busy year keeping up with its theme of a more interested and proud student body. The main resolution of this year's staff was to get things done before the last minute and thus give the student body a better planned and prepared yearbook. Still, deadlines were a constant problem for the staff as they prepared the Montpelier section by section for an "on time" delivery into the hands of the publisher. In a combined effort, the 1967 staff worked in coordinating a unified and enjoyable yearbook.

Editors-in-Chief Lynn Walterick and Pat Schmieg

The Hawk Talk staff recreated many moments in school life by accurately and enthusiastically reporting school news. For the first time, the newspaper was organized by co-editors, whose main objectives were to improve the quality as well as the outlook of the newspaper. They attempted to reflect the personalities and ideas of the students, instead of just recording the general news. Throughout the year the emphasis was on intellectual and cultural areas to stimulate student thinking and on editorials to represent the students' viewpoint.

Madison's Business Staff handled all the financial matters of the three publications, HERITAGE, HAWK TALK, AND MONTPELIER. They sold block subscriptions, distributed the yearbook, and sold ads to finance the publications. They also exchanged newspapers with other high schools all over the country. Under the direction of Mr. Church, the Business Staff relieved the literary staffs of the task of fund raising and conducting business matters.

Sitting: Suzanne Amsbaugh, John Junek, Pete Gottlieb, Chris McLean, Pat Schmieg, Susie Masterson. Standing: Mary Anne Yowell, Lynn Walterick, Nancy Bolish, Graham Strong, Ron Stewart, Suzanne Sheats, Donna True, Lorraine Jackson.

Those students who actively worked on one of three publications or the business staff were rewarded by induction into Quill and Scroll, the National Honor Society for High School Journalists. Required for induction were the accumulation of a hundred points earned through work on publications and a "B" average.

The major project of Quill and Scroll this year was the organization and production of the Student Directory for sale to Madison's students.

Pep Club Encourages Spirit and Enthusiasm

The Pep Club undertook the tremendous task of promoting school spirit. With its large membership, it was able to encourage school enthusiasm by advertising athletic activities through hall posters and announcements. Although it was Madison's only organization devoted primarily to school spirit, it was effective in arousing the student body to follow Madison's successful teams.

Club Hippique Sponsors Gymkhana

What are the requirements for potential members of Club Hippique? Appreciation and dependability are only two of the prerequisites for those who are interested in developing the many skills of good horsemanship.

Club Hippique has participated in numerous worthwhile activities. Among the highlights of the year was the annual Gymkhana, a moonlight trail ride. The members also attended the International Horse Show and sponsored a two-day Horse Show which benefitted the United States Equestrian Team.

Chess Club

Madison students have, indeed, benefitted from the presence of the Chess Club this year. The main purpose of this club was to intellectually stimulate students and give them a chance to participate in a rewarding, thought-provoking activity.

The Chess Club took part in several intramural tournaments throughout the year, and taught interested students how to play chess.

Clubs Develop Individual Interests

Bridge Club

The second semester saw the beginning of Madison's Bridge Club. Membership was open to both expert players and enthusiastic learners. The main objectives of the club are to increase its membership knowledge of the game and to provide proficient players for interscholastic competition.

"Resolved: The United States foreign aid program should be limited to non-military assistance." This was the resolution that was debated by Madison and other schools in the Northern Virginia Debate League. In addition to the regular league schedule, the team journeyed to George Washington University for a debate in March.

Under the enthusiastic direction of their coach, Mrs. Margaret Wallace, the negative team ranked first place in the league, and the affirmative ranked third.

Math Club Encourages Individual Study

The Math Club undertook the sponsorship of the Madison Math Team for the first time. The successful team finished second in Fairfax County with Bill Ragette leading the entire county in scoring.

At club meetings, many speakers helped members to gain a better understanding of math at higher levels.

Science Club Provides Stimulant for Study

Ross Bott, Sec.; Frank Hoose, Pres.; David Marshall, V. Pres.

The Science Club this year has sponsored and participated in many activities. Among the most interesting were two very unique assemblies given by General Motors and the Atomic Energy Commission. The National Airport Weather Facilities and the Environmental Space Labs provided interesting field trips for the club. Members of the club were also active in the Fairfax County Science Council activities and the Science Council conference. The club also competed in the annual W and M Scholarship Competition and the Northern Virginia Area Science Fair.

A national, as well as a county and state organization, the Future Homemakers of America endeavors to prepare girls to meet the daily chores of housekeeping, not as drudgery, but an important and creative part of family living. The major aim of the club is to attempt to mold its members, as future homemakers of the community.

FHA members were actively engaged in many activities throughout the year. Making gifts for children, a Christmas party, initiation of members, and selling fruit cakes were a few of these helpful services.

Future Nurses Explore the Medical Field

This year, the Future Nurses Club was made up of girls who were interested in different fields of medicine.

The main purpose of the club was to give the girls a better understanding of the different medical fields and to acquaint them with nursing schools and their requirements.

A guest speaker from the Washington school of Medical Techniques spoke to F.N.A. on the ever broadening scope of medicine. Several field trips were taken to observe this fascinating profession.

Students Explore Teaching Profession

Suzie Grant, Historian; Debbie Wright, Sec'y.; Paula Walther, Vice Pres.; Donna True, Pres.

The purpose of the Future Teachers of America is to offer its members a comprehensive understanding of the teaching profession.

Members visited various colleges during the year and donated their services to Madison's faculty. Active in other school affairs, they helped sell AFS Discount Cards. They also supplied many foreign dishes for the International Dinner.

Latin Club

The Latin Club, Patroni Latin, was formed in the hope that it might enhance the students' interests in the study of Latin and its Classical heritage. Its presence allowed interested students to expand their realm of knowledge and enrich their spirit.

The club's Roman Banquet, held in May, afforded its members a chance to take part in the old Roman fun and games. The highlight of the affair was the reenactment of the assassination of Julius Caesar.

Language Clubs Increase Knowledge and Interest

French Club

This year Madison's French students decided to reestablish the French Club. Conversation at all meetings was carried on in French. Members conducted lectures on French customs and holidays. The club also went to a French restaurant in Washington.

Successful 7-3 Record

The 1966 football season was one of the most successful seasons Madison has ever had. Under the leadership of a new coach, William Leskovar, the Madison gridmen compiled a 7-3 record, losing only to three of the top teams in the area: Fairfax, Annandale, and Woodson.

The season was highlighted by all 'round hardnose play and aggressiveness, with the defense intercepting seventeen passes and the offense averaging seventeen points per game. The season was capped by a 33-6 rout of a heavily favored Falls Church team.

Junior Varsity Frustrated by Strong Opponents

The 1966 Junior Varsity Hockey Team had a disappointing season, finishing with one win, one tie, and six losses. The team showed tremendous spirit throughout the whole season, though they were frequently matched against more experienced opponents. This team was a young one and the experience gained this year will be a valuable asset for the next year's Varsity.

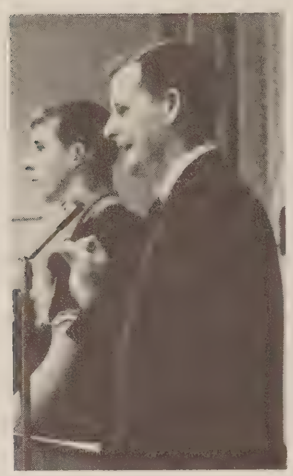
Basketball Team Finishes with 10-8 Record



Coach Clint Hannah

Madison's 1966-1967 basketball team was the best in the history of the school, with a 10-8 regular season record that was highlighted by a 59-54 victory over Woodson. This game was Woodson's first loss in district competition in three years.

In the post-season tournament, Madison defeated Falls Church by 23 points in the first round game. In the second round, Madison dropped a one point, last second decision to Woodson.

Individual honors went to Senior guard, Wayne Martin, who was the scoring leader and Most Valuable Player. Sophomore forward, Roger Hatcher, was named the Most Improved Player and Junior, John Hibbs, was presented with the Coaches' Award.

The 1967 J. V. Basketball Team did an excellent job this year in finishing the season with a 7 and 11 record. Two of those losses were in exciting overtime minutes. Rudy Tucker led the team's scoring with an average of 12 points a game. Other consistent performers were Dennis Sutphin, Jim Garland, and John Sessions. Their combined efforts plus the coaching of Mr. Peters managed to place the team 5th in the Northern Virginia District. The fine talent these boys displayed should go a long way toward creating a good varsity team in the coming years.

Despite Losses Frosh Keep Spirit Alive

The Freshman Basketball team finished a frustrated season with an unfortunate 3 wins and 7 losses. The season started slowly with a 1 and 4 record but in the second half the team improved to an acceptable 2 wins and only 3 defeats. The potential for a good J. V. team lies within these boys, and some hard practice and conscientious effort should result in a good team next year.

Accurate shooting by Jan Owens proved invaluable to the team effort.

After weeks of hard practice and long workouts, the girls' basketball team opened its season with a crushing victory over Jeb Stuart High School. Led by co-captains Cheryl Dellinger and Sharon Coulter, the team then moved on to a most successful season of 10 wins and two losses.

Miss Dean, the team coach, proved to be very valuable in organizing the diverse talent of the girls into a well-unified team. This culmination of team effort and outstanding coaching ability provided Madison wth an exceptionally successful basketball team. The J.V., being relatively inexperienced, practiced diligently throughout the season and ended the year with a mediocre 6-6 record. Outstanding games were played against Mount Vernon and Edison.

Baseball Team Battles To Keep Title

The 1967 Varsity Baseball Team has had an uphill struggle this year to retain its distinct crown which was won in 1966. After getting off to a slow start, the team picked up momentum, winning the next four out of five games.

Unlike previous years, this year's team was hitting very well. Terry Hoggatt was the leading hitter with approximately a .500 average. John Hibbs was the leader in runs scored. The pitching load was carried by Ron Slingerman and Mike Wallace.

This year's team was somewhat inexperienced but showed much promise for Madison's baseball future.

Renews Life In Drama Department

Thorton Wilder's play, "The Skin of Our Teeth", was the opening production of a very active year for Madison's Drama Department. The play, both tragic and comic, centered on the universal theme of the trials and tribulations of man, who always manages to come through by the "skin of his teeth." The play was given an imaginative interpretation by the director, Miss Nancy Frick, and the cast.

In "The Skin of Our Teeth", we see man in the ecstacy of his wheel invention and the agony of a family losing its unity. The time could be anytime and the place anywhere. The characters are people that anyone may have known. There is Mr. Antrobus who represents the intellectual inventor and Mrs. Antrobus, his wife, who keeps the home going. Just as important is Sabina the maid, who is constantly seeking prestige and materialistic pleasures.

This thought provoking presentation provided an evening of lively entertainment for all who attended.

With "The Sound Of Music"

Madison's musical production of the 1966-67 season was Rodger's and Hammerstein's "The Sound of Music." The production, under the direction of Mr. Norman Chaudet, was considered one of Madison's best and most successful. The musical spotlighted the talents of many Madison students, some already known, others being seen on stage for the first time.

The musical related the true story of Maria, a young novice nun, who leaves the convent to become the governess for the motherless Von Trapp family. Maria finds satisfaction and love in her new home, at the same time, bringing joy and warmth into the life of the family. She cultivates the family's musical talents resulting in the formation of the famous Trapp Family Singers.

All aspects of the play, individual performance, music, and scenery, effectively gave a professional atmosphere to the presentation.

Speakers Enlighten Students On Foreign Affairs

This year's International Week was held early in April. The chairmen, Susie Masterson and Derek Nelson, planned an original and challenging program. Deviating from previous years' programs, separate assemblies were presented to upper and lower classmen. For the first time seminars were held after the assemblies with representatives from all Social Studies classes. The main area of emphasis was Southeast Asia. The speech topics included the countries of Japan, Korea, Vietnam and China.

Dr. Lothar Metzl speaks to students on Red China.

In accordance with one of this year's S.C.A. projects, the Student Council held a spring assembly on Honor. By including guest speakers and an imaginative skit, the assembly stressed the importance of personal honor, integrity, and the necessity of a workable Honor Code. Speakers included Miss Stewart, a former Madison student, now a Madison English teacher, and Mr. Davis, a former teacher at Madison who now works for the Fairfax Education Association. Also speaking was Mr. Hockman from the Vienna Community Center. The problems of honor, and honor systems were discussed in this assembly. Finally, the "virtues and pitfalls" of personal integrity were impressed upon the audience as Batman and Robin foiled the Chetah.

Mr. Carl Davis addresses the student body.

Recognition Is Given To

This year's "It's Academic" team consisted of Lynn Walterick, Maureen O'Mara, and Edmond Butler. Supported by fellow classmates and Varsity Cheerleaders, the team won its first two matches. Losing the third match by a very small margin, the team was one of the most successful in Madison's history. Lynn, Maureen, and Ed, by their fine performances, exemplified the very best of Madison's students.

Susie Reid received the D.A.R. Good Citizenship Award and placed second in the Elks Club Leadership Award for Arlington and Fairfax Counties.

Susie Reid and Rusty Chute won the Optimist Club Youth Appreciation Week Awards.

Somewhere, My Love

Somewhere, my love
there will be songs to sing,
Although the snow
covers the hope of spring,
Somewhere a hill
blossoms in green and gold,
And there are dreams
all that your heart can hold.
You'll come to me
out of the long ago,
Warm as the wind
soft as the kiss of snow,
Till then my sweet
think of me now and then,
God speed my love
'til you are mine again,
'til you are mine again.

Future With Confidence

The seventh graduating class of James Madison High School held its Commencement Exercises at Constitution Hall on Tuesday, June 6, 1967. Student speakers, chosen by the class, were Lynn Walterick and Ed Kitchen. They spoke on the responsibility of men to work for a better nation and world. Other speakers included Susan Reid, Senior Class President; Mrs. Bradley, Guidance Director; and Mr. Bonner, Principal.

The faculty citizenship awards were presented to Susan Reid and Ed Kitchen. John Junek received the faculty award.

Willem Kymmell receives his diploma from Mr. Elton Bonner.

The Madison Choir, directed by Mr. Guidotti, sings "Let Us Now Praise Famous Men."

"If we reach out for this awareness of the Universe, we will once more find the true path of man . . . The world does evolve. From molten lava and star dust life is born. Slowly, slowly we have pulled ourselves up until we can write cantatas and weigh nebulae . . . Life moves on toward a larger awareness. Slowly, slowly, the star dust composes and nourishes its finest flower . . . "
